America May Be Compelled To Offer Official Apology for Fiery Marine's Remarks.

Major General Smedley D. Butler, U. S. Marine corps officer, has drawn the wrath of the Italian government on his head because of a recent speech in which he accused Mussolini of allowing his car to be driven over a child and remarking "What is one life in the affairs of a state?"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(49)—A WUIII TO FRFF ent for an explanation of a recent speech made in Philadelphia had passed tonight through the regular channels to Major General Smedley D. Butler, of the marine corps. In it lay a possibility that the American governmer: might make a

There were no indications of the nature of the amends which the Italian government would consider adequate if it was found that Butler had made the statements.

The general custom, however, is for the offending government to formally apologize, giving details of the action which has been taken against the person who caused the complaint.

Should it be found that Butler in his speech made substantially the same remarks as was charged, at least a severe reprimand would be meted out by one of three persons.

Doctors Know Best How to Treat Colds

Medical writers agree that the important point in the treatment of a cold, or cough due to a cold, is to relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thereby preventing serious complications which may follow a neglected cold. To stop this congestion calomel was the accepted and standard remedy until Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablet was introduced.

previous three years, especially that of the spring of 1917. It was none the less a surprise, however, when a report came directly to me that such views had actually been expressed in the presence of civilian visitors by officers of rank in our army.

I was indignant to learn of that kind of talk, and in commenting on it to the Americans who had heard such statements made I said that "the German lines can be broken, they must be broken, and they will be broken," and those present will recall that it was said with considerable emphasis.

Positive steps were taken at once to eradicate such notions, or at least prevent them from being openly stated, and I was determined to relieve immediately any officer, without regard to rank, who should express any such opinion. The following letter was sent to the several divisions and to other commanders:

"1. Americans recently visiting our training areas and coming in-contact with officers in high com-mand have received a note of deep pessimism, including appre-hension of undue hardships to be deep pessimism, including apprehension of undue hardships to be undergone, of the disadvantages of billeting as compared to field conditions that have prevailed in our own country, of the great numbers of the enemy, and a belief in the impregnability of his lines, mingled with some comment on the pecularities of our allies, and generally have come away with an impression that the war is already well along toward defeat for our arms. It is especially to be regretted that such an impression has been derived mainly from general officers who, if prompted by considerations of soldierly duty, of leadership, of patriotism, fortitude and ambition, should maintain quite an opposite attitude.

"2. While realizing that optimism cannot be created by order, it should be unnecessary to point out that such a state of mind on the part of officers in responsible positions is at once reflected among their troops, and it is not an over statement to say no officer worthy of command would

Nothing more was heard of the existence of such sentiments within our army, if, indeed, they had ever found more than a temporary lodgment in the minds of a few naturally timid or critically inclined souls. The mere suggestion that such views might be held only made it all the more imperative to emphasize and develop an aggressive spirit among our troops.

First Division Moves In.

My general impression of the sistuation at this time was set forth in a cable to Washington, October 21:

"During the past week the wa-As the training of the 1st division

My repeated cables, beginning in July, for winter clothing, had received scant attention, and with the coming of colder weather the shortage became critical. The initial stock requested was disallowed, the monthly allotments were totally inadequate and the depots were practically empty.

The explanation that came from the quartermaster general's office, that our requests could not be granted on account of the needs at home, showed a total lack of appreciation of the necessity of properly clothing the fighing men actually at the front above all others. After another urgent appeal, a partial sumply was sent, but we a partial supply was sent, but we had succeeded in obtaining a quantity of clothing from the British to tide us

Notwithstanding all these handicaps the men were highly enthusiastic over the prospects of this new experience, and the rest of us were gratified that at last we were to be represented on the front. Thirty days were allotted for this preliminary training, one battalion at a time of each regiment occupying the line for a period of 10 days. The sector had been inactive and uneventful since the stormy days of 1914, when General de Castelnau halted the German advance on the Grande Couronne de Nancy. A few of the French remained in their homes in advance of our support positions, while on the German side people continued to live near enough to the front lines to be seen going to church on Notwithstanding all these handicaps lines to be seen going to church on Sundays. and inefficiency of the military establishment six months after this country declared war.

This was the view expressed here today by General Robert E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Company, and acting quartermaster general of the army from the spring of 1918, when he became chief of the division of purchases, storage and traffic. The commander in chief's criticisms and vigorous representations brought about the introduction of new methods in creating and equipping with supplies and ordnance materials the first troops sent overseas.

"I have often wondered what manner of man was responsible for shipping such things, whether on supply tables or not, thereby wasting tonnage, when winter clothing, building material, steel and a lot of real necessities were being delayed," wrote General Pershing after telling of the shipment to France of bath bricks, bookcases, bathtubs, floor wax, lawn mowers, window shades and stepladders.

"This refers to what happened in the early days of the war when General Pershing did have this trouble," said General Wood. "I was in France as a colonel of the infantry in the Forty-second division. New French Ministry's Strength To Meet Test Friday.

PARIS, Jan. 27 .- (A)-Premier Pierre Laval's day-old cabinet sat up late tonight polishing off the declaration of policy with which it will make its first test of strength in the chamber of deputies on Friday.

Politicians who analyzed the new combination expressed the belief that it would weather the attacks of radial socialists and other left elements

Although the ministry was admitted to differ little from that of Andre Tardieu, which was overthrown in December, observers thought that it leaned a little more to moderate opin-ion in the chamber and would be a little stronger in the senate.

OLD GOLD TAKES DETROIT "IN HIGH."

MOTOR CITY SITS IN ON RIPLEY'S FOUR-BRAND CIGA-RETTE TEST. YES, O. G. WINS!

Won't somebody . . . some city . . . some section . . . please step up and lick OLD GOLD in one of these fourbrand taste-tests . . . just for variety?

Take Detroit! I took it . . . or rather OLD GOLD did . . . in stride. Greeted the Mayor. Met Detroit Clubmen. Stood in the middle of the International Bridge. Raced all over town, with four leading brands of cigarettes to be sampled by Detroit's busy populace.

And what happened? The same OLD GOLD story! The same OLD GOLD win! This time by a 33% margin!

I tell you this famed throat-ease of OLD GOLD is fact, not fancy. That's why O. G. clicks in every taste-test.

Still . . . it takes an exception to prove a rule. And I am still looking for the group or city that won't Distributors of milk in Atlanta are willing to comply with any regula-tions equally enforced as to sanita-tion in their own establishments or as to production sources, Marion Smith, Atlanta attorney representing Pedigree Dairies, told the sanitary committee of council Tuesday after-noon, Pedigree will prefer to purchase ticorgia products at an even higher ticorgia products at an even higher price than they are paying for im-ported products, he stated.

The statement came at the closing The statement came at the closing of a lengthy hearing on a proposal to change the milk ordinances so as to raise the grade of milk or to have it labeled as to grades, a plea made by Representative William H. Key, of Jasper county, who represented the producers. The Key plan is in line with suggested changes by Dr. John P. Kennedy, city health officer, and bids fair to raise the standard of the product distributed here and in other cities of the state.

Smith said that the Pedigree Dairies did not object to any sanitary regu-lations the city saw fit to make which would insure pure milk in the city, and would apply equally to all milk no matter where produced.

The only milk being shipped in from out of the state by Pedigree Dairies was, he said, coming from Richmond, Va., and had been tested might react to bar importation of any milk out of the state. Differences between producers and distributors were believed ironed out and the impending war averted.

Following are the suggested changes in the present milk ordinances as recommended by Dr. Kennedy:

1. Making it unlawful for pasteurizing plants to distribute grade "A" and grade "B" pasteurized products from the same plants.

2. Making it mandatory on the part of distributors and pasteurizing plant managers to label the pasteurized product according to the grade it was before pasteurization.

Among the major requests which key made in addition to the two Dr. Kennedy recommended were:

1. To bar sale of recombined milk than any produced in the same of the Georgia milk and not grade milk than any produced in the same of the Pedigree Dairies would prefer to buy Georgia milk and never shipped any of this milk into Georgia until some of the Georgia producers were organized and misled it was before pasteurization.

The Unseen Value That Makes The New Ford a Fine Car

Large number of ball and roller bearings reduces friction and wear and gives greater reliability and economy

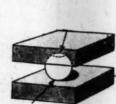

YOU step into the new Ford, press your foot on the starter and away you go. Smoothly, evenly, it carries you along your way, for many thousands of miles each year. You have no fear of mechanical trouble and you accept its good performance as a matter of course. You have confidence that it will serve you faithfully and well under all conditions.

Though you may never lift the hood of your car, it is interesting to know some of the reasons for the reliability of the Ford and its economy of operation and up-keep. The extensive use of ball and roller bearings is an example of the quality that has been built into it.

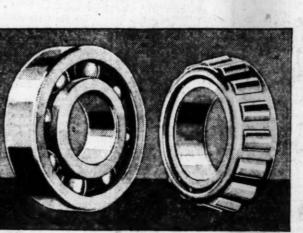

These ball and roller bearings-and there are more than twenty of them in the new Ford-allow moving parts to run smoothly and freely, thus reducing friction and wear to a minimum. To you as a car owner, this means smooth, quiet mechanical operation, more speed and power, iacreased gasoline mileage. greater durability and longer

The function of the ball and roller bearings of the new Ford is similar to that of the jewels in a watch. Since they are placed at every point in the chassis where they are needed to prevent friction, the new Ford may be called a full-jeweled car, in the same sense that a fine watch is full-jeweled.

This simple illustration shows how the ball bearings in the nese Ford minimise friction by reducing the contact surface between moving parts.

Examples of the type of ball and roller bearings used in the new Ford. There are more than twenty in all-an unusually arge number. They play an important part in the smi reliability, economy and long life.

FORD DE LUXE COUPE

The De Luxe Coupe is a striking example of the rich finish of the new Ford cars. Attractive colors give added charm to its grace of line and contour. For upholstery you may choose luxurious mohair or Bedford cord. Here, at a loss price, is everything you want or need in a motor car - distinctive beauty, safety, comfort, speed, power, ease of control, reliability, economy and long life. Ask your Ford dealer for a demonstration.

Roller bearings are used in the new Ford wherever a wide bearing surface is needed. The contact is along the entire line marked A and B.

As important as the number of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford is their adequate size, and the manner in which each type has been selected for the work it has to do.

Ball bearings are used where their ball-shaped construction will give the greatest smoothness and efficiency. Roller bearings are used wherever a larger bearing surface is needed to carry a heavier load. The deciding factor as to which type shall be used is what is best for the car and for Ford owners.

Steering is made easier and safer in the new Ford because of the roller bearings in the front wheels, at the spindle bolts and in the steering mechanism. There are ball bearings on the clutch and ball and roller bearings in the transmission. A roller bearing on the drive shaft at the universal joint provides perfect alignment of those vital parts and prevents loss of power. Adjustments on the rear axle pinion and differential are made unnecessary by the close limits to which those roller bearings are held. The ball bearing on the generator gives greater

The value of the large number of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford is especially apparent after the first year. By reducing wear, they also reduce the cost of up-keep and the need of replacement parts.

LARGER FEDERAL Whether He Works for Bread or For the Money To Buy Bread, His Hands Get the Same Kind of Corns By Robert Quillen -

If anything big is happening in the world, you must understand it or ose step with your times. If you would understand Ivan, the poor man of Russia, you must inderstand that he is striving, by means of a strange short-cut never tried before, to gain the simple comforts and advantages you have taken for granted all your life. A few years ago he had no ambition, for ambition was useless. hat he earned, above the needs of bare existence, was taken by the nobles, the czar and the church. And hopelessness taught him to hate work and to do as little as he could When the revolution came and turned his world upside down, his new masters-who ruled him in the name of liberty-had first of all to overcome his aversion to work.

Here was a bad situation! Masters determined to rebuild a nation and Ivan unwilling to turn a hand. It isn't man's nature to love toil for its own sake. He must have an incentive. And Ivan's new masters, being shrewd men with knowledge of human nature, soon found the spur to quicken his steps. They couldn't bribe him with money, for they were determined to abolish private property. The private business man was to be taxed and handicapped until he gave up. But money is nothing in itself. Men can't eat it or wear it. They desire it only because it affords security and power and distinction. Knowing these things, Ivan's new masters pledged him security. They yould always have a job for him, care for him in sickness and pension new nobility was established. If Ivan worked hard and accomplished much, he was called a "hero of labor" or given the "banner of the red label flag." The soviet has not adjusted human nature to itself: it has adjusted itself to human nature.

And as an incentive to do his best, they offered him a way to win ower and privilege and distinction—the things that inspire men to covet wealth in other lands.

It merely has new words for old things. One ruling class was replaced by another; one nobility was slain and another established; money was shorn of power, but men were given opportunity to win the power without the money.

Russia hasn't changed human nature. And Ivan must stand or fall his own efforts, despite fine new words that cushion hard old facts.

The house speeded another billiondollar bill down the legislative chute today when it passed the annual appropriation measure for 35 independent governmental agencies.

The bill carrying $1.052.768.140—$246,790,555 more than last year—now joins others in the senate. It was the seventh annual appropriation measure passed by the house this session, leaving four more needing house action.

BY DONALD C. BOLLES. NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(P)—The appearance of nearly $100,000,000 in new loans for domestic corporations and the prospect of many additional flotations gave the bond market a slight setback today.

The reactionary trend was most evident in carrier loans with obliga-tions of the Missouri Pacific railroad leading both the activity and the deleading both the activity and the decline. More than $1,000,000 in bonds of the road were sold, most of them 2 points off from the previous day, following the marketing of a new $61,000,000 issue. Not in weeks has the bond market witnessed such activity in the bonds of one company. Four 5 per cent bonds reacted to 95, the offering price of the new issue. Large blocks of other investment railroad obligations were offered at good fractional concessions.

The expansion of activity on the

The expansion of activity on the decline gave the bond market the busiest session in more than a fortnight, the day's exchanges amounting to more than $13,000,000. Utilities also had competition from new financing and most of the changes were on the downside.

Announcement of the prospective Announcement of the prospective sale of $60,000,000 treasury bills on Friday contributed to the lower movement in United States governments. A $1,000,000 block of Treasury 3 3-8s of 1940-43 changed hands at a concession of 7-32nds from the previous close. Bankers expect that the government will receive very high bids for its 90-day notes.

In the depression year 1930 investors, more than ever careful, critical and hesitant, placed more than $102,800,000 in newly created NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARES-a larger sum than was invested during 1930 in any new issue of corporation bonds (excepting two major issues), or of stock offered generally to investors in the United States. This sum exceeds the amount invested during 1930 in the newly created shares of any other fixed trust.

A FEW REASONS:

- 1. The name of this trust-NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHAREShas become virtually synonymous with the term, "Fixed Trust."
- 2. The farflung popularity of this trust is proof of the wide appeal of a grouped common stock investment available for all classes of investors at a moderate original charge.
- 3. Purchasers realize the accuracy with which the price of these trust shares is based upon the actual transaction prices of the underlying stocks during market hours.
- 4. Purchasers appreciate the privilege of converting these trust shares through the trustee into underlying stocks or cash without payment of a conversion penalty.

- 5. Purchasers recognize the soundness of providing for continuing administrative expenses of the trust, including trustee's fees, through payment to the Depositor of interest on the reserve fund and accumulations.
- 6. Purchasers appreciate the liberal reinvestment program, the significance of which is brought explicitly to their attention twice each year.
- 7. The character of the investment banking interests represented in Distributors Group, Incorporated, assures the continuation of a superior sponsorship.
- 8. NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARES are distributed by more than 1,200 investment dealers and banks throughout the United States, Canada, England and Continental Europe.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(P)—The stock market, with its mind on the meeting of the United States Steel directors, refused to budge today from an area of restricted price movements.

Leading shares developed and maintained a heavy undertone and points of strength elsewhere were none too numerous. Late covering kept final prices off the bottom and net declines in utilities and industrials were largely fractional. Sales totaled 1,601,720 shares.

U. S. Steel traveled a one-point path, selling off by a major fraction and then rallying at the close under covering by professional traders who were taking no chances on the earnings statement. The stock closed at 142 3-4, up 1-4. Some of the utilities turned heavy. American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, American & Foreign Power, Electric Power & Light and Columbia Gas lost about a point. Rails were mixed and quiet. Rails were mixed and a point. Rails were mixed and quiet.

Studebaker's reaction to a dividend cut was a 2-point drop and some sympathetic heaviness appeared in other motor shares. The merchandising group held part of 1 to 3-point advances, with J. C. Penney making the best showing.

The steel corporation's report gave striking evidence that the depression had struck the industry with full force in the final quarter of 1930.

Freight loadings fail to display outstanding improvement. The increase for the week ended January 17 over the previous week was 11,687 cars, so that the gains still leave something to be desired.

EIGHT TO NINE POINT GAINS SCORED AT NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27.-(A)-NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27.—(P)—Although the cotton market here to-day was far from active, prices developed a firmer tone owing to some trade buying and price fixing. Generally more favorable foreign political news, more demand in the cotton trade and a better inquiry for spots caused ring traders to bid prices up developing a scarcity of contracts. up developing a scarcity of contracts.

After opening unchanged to 3 points up, prices gradually improved throughout the morning until around noon the active months all showed gains over the previous close of 14 points. In the again afternoon the mark gains over the previous close of 14 points. In the early afternoon the market eased off 3 to 4 points from the top on some reselling by earlier buyers and realizing by scalpers.

The market continued rather quiet in the late trading and any tendency to advance was checked by straddle selling by Liverpool in the northern market. Only the two nearest mouths

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Irregularity marked Tuesday's session, although absence of pressure in conjunction with resiliency exhibited by pivotal stocks indicated presence of strong demand stocks indicated presence of strong demand of a more concessions. The speculative mind still seems reluctant to commit itself or a more constructive program due to belief accumulation is justified only when improvement has become so obvious that all may see. This theory however, overlooks the fact that when fundamentals have improved to such an extent the opportunity to acquire stocks at deflated price levels will already have been withdrawn.

Earnings.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The first 33 rail-roads reporting December earnings had net operating income of $19,256,000. A decrease of .36.4 per cent from $30,312,000 reported by the same railroads for December, 1929. Norfolk & Southern today reported net operating income of $49,392 for 1930, com-pared to $53,053 for 1929.

Bangor & Arosstock had preliminary 1930 net of $1,557,762. or $9.26 a common share, compared with $1,398,433, or $3.46 a share in 1920.

Inland Steel Company and subsidiaries for the year ended December 31 had net in-come of $6,498,907, equal to $5.41 a share on the common, against $11,712,374, or $0.76 a share in 1929.

cst so far this week was the result of a general tendency on the part of traders to await publication of the fourth quarter earnings report of U. S. Steel. This report was released after the close Tuesday and should provide an important test of the market's position Wednesday.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—With Liverpool cables about as due to two English points better, the local market opened relatively steady-and advanced slightly after the opening, most of the support coming from the trade and processes.

The demand was supplied by fluidation and scattered hedge selling. The Liverpool market was strengthened by the compromise made between the British and the Indian nationalists. Manchester cabled that cloth inquiry from home trade and South America shows improvement.

HUBBARD BROS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The cotton market opened strong on small volume of trade buying. The south sold only moderately. New Orleans buying in the early afternoon caused locals to cover and prices advanced in a thin market. Market held the advance, cosing steady 10 points up. Market continues very narrow and is easily affected either way on small orders but the improved demand reported in goods marekt is restricting selling.

Liverpool futures are due: March 5.55; May 5.62.

Dividends.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Ten Co. declared a quarterly dividend of $1.50 a common share, increasing the annual rate to $6 from $5.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(49)—Reports of drouth surpassing in places the severity even of last year's disaster carried grains upward today. Central Illinois advices said creeks and springs never before known to have gone dry had failed, and that more wells were empty than at any time last summer. Unusual absence of moisture was noted over the spring wheat belt in addition to dearth in winter crop sections.

wheat belt in addition to dearth in winter crop sections.

Corn advanced faster than wheat, and closed unsettled. 5-Sc to 1 1-4c higher, wheat at 1-Sc to 7-Sc gain, oats 1-4c to 1-2c up, provisions unchanged to 10 cents off.

Buying on the part of houses with eastern connections was a feature of the corn market, and future delivery offerings were scarce, contrasting strongly with aggressive selling in evidence for some days past. Suppleofferings were scarce, contrasting strongly with aggressive selling in evidence for some days past. Supplementary to Illinois reports of acute drouth were messages from St. Lonis saying the 1930 deficiency of rainfall was 14.21 inches, compared with 8.86 in 1929 and 1.10 in 1928.

Increased buying of corn was partly die to statements by a trade authority that official estimates indicated less than 1 per cent reduction of grain-consuming units-of live stock, whereas production of feed grains was 11.5 per cent less and hay production 16.5 per cent less.

Wheat was responsive to senate action looking to emergency relief use of 20.000.000 bushels of wheat owned by the Grain Stabilization Corporation. Something of an offset was a trade forecast of 300.000.000 bushels domestic carry-over of wheat on July 1. Oats were mainly influenced by the action of corn.

Firmness of hog values helped the provision market to absorb hedging sales.

Exceptional Opportunity for Discriminating Investors

THE conservative investor who has accurate information enabling him to discriminate will find in the current bond market exceptional opportunities for high income from sound investments.

One of the most attractive of these opportunities is to be found in the Bonds of Cities Service Company, the prices for which, in our judgment, are abnormally low in relation to the security afforded. The extent, diversity, and essential character of the services rendered by Cities Service Company's subsidiaries give that Company the character of a national institution, strongly anchored in the commercial and industrial structure of the nation. The Company controls, directly or indirectly through stock ownership, more than sixty-five subsidiary companies rendering public utility services in twenty States and the Dominion of Canada, and more than forty-five subsidiary companies which form an important system of oil production, transportation, refining and marketing. During each of the past nine years the consolidated earnings for the full twelve months, of the Company and subsidiaries, as owned at the end of each year, have shown substantial growth in both gross and net. The extent of that growth is reflected in the fact that gross earnings for 1921 were $85,128,432, while for 1929 they were $187,459,523. In the same period net earnings increased from $23,-704,543 to $69,872,121.

Likewise for the 12 months ended June 30, 1930, notwithstanding the general business depression during the greater part of that period, the consolidated net earnings of the Company and subsidiaries, before reserves and federal income taxes, were $83,744,918, equal to 2.5 times the requirements for annual interest and dividends on the outstanding funded debt and preferred stock of subsidiaries and the annual interest on the funded debt of the Company.

We have carefully followed the development of Cities Service Company for many years, and it is our judgment that the current market quotations on the Bonds of that Company present an unusual opportunity for acquiring income return of 7% or more on sound investment securities.

> We shall be pleased to furnish on request further information regarding the Bonds of Cities Service Company, together with our booklet listing Recommendations for Timely Investment.

LITTLE PROGRESS SHOWN ON CURB

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER. NEW YORK, Jan. 27 .- (A)-The curb market was unable to make much progress in either direction today, and closed irregular with variations in active issues only fractional. The session was dull, which was reflected in a total turnover of 196,000 shares. Traders made an effort at the start of the session to push prices upward with little success, and mild reactionary tendencies were evident.

Dresser Manufacturing "B" rallied 2 1-2 points; Gray Telephone Pay Station 6 3-4 and Ferro Enamel 3 7-8. Deere sold off at the close to drop 1 3.4. Investment Trusts maintained a firm trend on narrow fluctuations. Utilities were erratic and displayed no marked trend. Utilitity Power &

Light "A," Electric Bond & Share, American Superpower and United

made a belated response to publication of its 1030 earnings, rising 1 3-4. Petroleum issues, with the single exception of Gulf, which declined 1 point, idled.

11 PHOENIX MUTUAL LIFE SHOWS GAIN FOR 1930

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 27.— (Special.)—At the annual meeting of policyholders of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company, President Archibald A. Welch declared: "The Archibald A. Welch declared: "The company's outstanding accomplishment for the year was the amount of new life insurance issued and paid for in the face of a general business depression." The amount was $87,-697,000 and represents the largest volume of new life insurance placed in force by the company in any of its 80 years of existence. It also represents an increase of 9 per cent over the amount written last year.

The eightieth annual financial statement of the company, just pub-statement of the company, just published, reveals other interesting facts. The total insurance in force now amounts to $623,567,000, a gain of $39,512,000 during a year of such financial stringency that many policyholders everywhere were obliged to relinquish part or all of their life insurance holdings. Assets now are in excess of $150,000,000, having increased $11,356,000 during the year, while the surplus above all liabilities in placed at $7,600,000. is placed at $7,600,000.

Oil Deal Hits Snag. NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(A)—The unusual prospect of a fight for control of a 'company in the hands of receivers loomed Monday when Wall Street learned that there was opposition to acquisition of the $150,000.000 Richfield Oil Company of California by Cities Service Company.

HIGHLIGHTS OF WALL STREET

morrow by reason of the fact that 42 cents of the earnings of 70 cents a share on the common stock of the United States Steef Corporation for the fourth quarter of last year resulted from tax refunds, thus leaving only 28 cents as actual earnings from the steel business. The latter figure is small and will be utilized, it is believed, by the professional bears in an effort to unsettle the stability of the general stock market.

The street had expected an optimistic statement on the outlook of the steel industry to accompany the statement of earnings but in this expectation it was disappointed as none was forthcoming. The recent statemant of the force of the reduction in dividend but other motor shares held steady. Increased activity and strength was noted in Vanadium Corporation stock. This was attributed to the entrance of new interests in the market for the shares. The new buying was declared to be based on knowledge of improvement in the corporation's business.

Increased payments are also reported to be in store for the Caterpillar Tractor, it being rumored that an extra distribution would be made to shareholders in the near future.

RAILROADS STEADY.

Irregularity featured trading in the stock market today, the street being inclined to await the earnings of the steel "corporation before making new commitments of any size. Auburn auto continued to attract attention with another sharp advance to a new high level-for this movement. The erratic fluctuations of this stock in an otherwise quiet m.rket emphasizes what can be done under good sponsorship.

Shares of transportation companies continued to show firmness notwith-standing the publication of a number of unfavorable statements of earnings for December. Turning to finances, Governor Horton said a report prepared by the tax department shows that the budget request for the next biennium exceeds the revenues derived from the present revenue laws by $8,521,758.12.

"The 20 cent property tax that went off the first day of this year was left out of the revenues considered in this report," the governor continued. "If you approve the budget and make no other appropriations for the biennuim, you will have to provide $4,260,879.06 yearly in revenues in addition to what the present revenue laws raise. The property tax produced approximately $3,500,000 per annum. It will be seen, therefore, that there is only about $500.000 increase of new revenues to be provided."

Lullwater Garden Club Plans Tea

Ways and means committee of Lullwater Garden Club sponsors a silver tea Thursday, February 5, at the residence of Mrs. W. R. Bean, on North Decatur road, in Druid Hills. The January meeting of the club was held at the home of Mrs. Grady Estes, on Lullwater road, with Mesdames J. J. Clark and B. T. Carter as assistant hostesses.

In view of the fact that such a strong appeal is being made for the Red Cross, it was voted to send $10 for the drouth relief fund. While this is not strictly in line with the activities of the club, it was deemed wise to acknowledge the urgency of the situation, "Rose Culture" was the subject of the lecture given by Donald M. Hastings, and the members will complete the planting on Druid Hills school grounds.

Kettledrum Date Set for Feb. 17 [By Habersham Chapter, D. A. R.

Joseph Habersham Chapter D. A. R. have set Tuesday afternoon, February 17, for the annual kettledrum sponsored by this organization at the chapter house on Fifteenth street. Mrs. A. R. Colcord, regent of the Habersham chapter, announces that Mrs. James N. Brawner will act as general chairman for this mammoth affair, and the chairmen who will serve with Mrs. Brawner will be announced later.

For many years this event has been enjoyed by Atlanta's bridge players and assembles several hundred members of society. It was in the life of the late Mrs. William Lawson Peel, beloved founder of the Joseph Habersham chapter, that the idea of having an annual kettledrum was originated, she having secured the name from the

OF DENTISTS NOW TELL THE BEST WAY TO CARE FOR TEETH

It wouldn't be strange if you sometimes wonder if you really are taking the most effective care of your teeth and gums. There are dozens of different dentifrices-and countless conflicting theories about oral hygiene. What is right?

An important question! So E. R. Squibb & Sons asked a prominent research institution to conduct an investigation among 50,000 American dentists-a real court of authority. Here is the summary of the answers received:

95% of the answers stated that germ acids most frequently agreed that the most serious trouble occurs at the place where teeth and gums meet:

stated that the best product to prevent these acids from causing decay and irritating the gums is Milk

Could you have any more conclusive evidence that Squibb Dental Cream will protect your teeth and gums? It is made with more than 50% Squibb Milk of Magnesia.

Try Squibb's. It cleans beautifully - and eafely. Contains no grit, no astringents-nothing which might injure. It refreshes the mouth as it cleans. Great for smokers!

Jackets Face Another Major Test on Court at Auburn Tonight Max Schmeling Confident He Will Beat Stribling in Title Match

JACKETS FACE WITH AUBURN

Tech Quintet Much Improved; Steadily Nearing Top of Heap.

By Herb Clark.

Georgia Tech's Yellow Jacket bas-ketball team, starting slowly in the race for conference honors but pick-ing up speed rapidly of late, will be given another of those "major tests" tonight at Auburn as the Tigers play hosts at what promises to bear little resemblance to a family party.

The Tigers invaded Athens last Friday for a tussle with Georgia's Bulldogs and succumbed by a three-point margin at 30-27. What with the Bulldogs leading the conference and all, that performance stamps the Tigers as being of the best.

Tigers as being of the best.

Yet the Jackets, falling before the Bulldogs some weeks ago themselves, and by a nine-point count, have seemingly climbed some several rungs since that time. Only last week they humbled Tennessee, after the Volshad bowed to the Bulldogs by another of those three-noint edges.

Whence it follows that the Jackets need not feel themselves thoroughly outclassed tonight. They have come need not feel themselves thoroughly outclassed tonight. They have come along nicely under Coach Roy Mundorff's tutelage of late. Experimentation-with various combinations in the linenp and various offensive and defensive sets has brought forth a club, with able substitutes, which is playing very, very good basketball at the moment. One which has risen from the bottom of the conference listings to a favorable point and which seems assured of entry to the tournament and due to raise a bit of havoe in that tourney.

MUCH PRACTICE.

MUCH PRACTICE.

The Jackets have not played since last Thursday, when they trounced the Vols at 49-29. They have spent long-hours on the practice courts, and those hours, thinks Coach Roy, will be fruitful ones. A deal of improvement shows in their play since that 20-point victory. And bear in mind that 20 points over the Vols is 20 over the Tigers—say the Georgia records against Tennessee and Auburn. Still—Tech's stand against the Bulldogs, with nine points on the wrong side of the ledger, means six points for the Tigers tonight. It meant, too, six points for the Vols.

One game in play-off for the championship must be staged not later than 10 days after Thanksgiving, they decided.

Frank Anderson, arbiter of the association, must select the outstanding eleven among the high schools and the outstanding team in the preparatory class for the deciding match. His selection will be final. The G. I. A. A. is determined to get the schoolboys out of the trenches long before Christmas this time.

The association came in for no end of criticism last fall when it permitted a pre-playoff of a tie in the northern division. The association itself was chagrined over the prolonged season, but at the time it seemed the only thing to do.

'RAY FOR AUBURN!

Meanwhile dear old Auburn has started spring football practice with 50 men reporting to Head Coach Chet Wynne daily.

None but the hypercritical would charge overemphasis at Auburn. Auburn came a long way back last year toward regaining its old-time prestige, and still has quite a way to travel.

Other conference institutions start spring drills in February, some as late as the second week, but no one objects to Auburn's early hop-off.

MAKE IT SNAPPY.

Mobile newspapers have started a campaign to change the name of the Bears, the modern nickname of their Southern league baseball team.

Once upon a time they were called "The Gulls." That name was dropped perhaps because it sounded so much like the provincial pronunciation of the adolescent female of the species, plural.

When the Bears of 1930 were cut adrift and sent out on the road they were called "The Orphans." Now that a rich man from Nashville is putting up, as they say, for them, a rude mind in the office suggested "Keptives" (he reads Winchell), but this name was passed up by this refined department as being when they clash for the title in June.

His first words carried a denial that he ever had said anything derogatory either to the New York state athletic commision or to the German boxing commission. He added that he was perfectly satisfied with the arrangements under which he is to meet Stribling in June and, possibly. Primo Carnera, of Italy, in the fall.

"My job is to fight," said Max tersely. "Joe Jacobs' is to manage. Whatever he does is right with me."

Jack Sharkey, the Teuton slugger declared, has only himself to blame for his failure to get the heavyweight title "shot" this summer. While Sharkey loaded, Max explained, Stribling went out and knocked out Otto Von Porat and Phil Scott and could no longer be ignored. Max said he was anxious to meet Sharkey again and was confident that sooner or later they would be matched.

WEIGHS 192 POUNDS.

Schmeling said he weighed 192 pounds, compared to the 189 he scaled the night he fought Sharkey and won the title on a foul. He looked to be in good condition, although he was a bit plump around the face.

Schmeling has seen Stribling box only once—in 1928 when the Georgian knocked out Johnny Squires at the Garden. He was impressed by the southerner's work in that bout, although he's convinced he will retain his championship when he battles Stribling in June.

In the fast few months Max has been playing golf, doing gymnasium work and boxing three times a week, so that he feels he has very little to do to put himself in shape.

The champion begins an exhibition tour on February 9 that will carry him through the south, southwest and middle west before ending on April 27.

He pointed out that he has nearly six months to get in shape for Stribling, compared to the six weeks he had to prepare for the Sharkey match.

Coach Thomas Plans No Radical Change in Style at Alabama

WILL BE TAUGHT TIDE SLOWLY

New Coach Satisfied With Material; Plans Two Teams.

BY ZIP NEWMAN.
BIRMINGHAM. Ala., Jan. 27.—
Frank Thomas will not make any radical changes in the system of football in which the Alabama players are versed. Look for no startling changes. Thomas stated as much on his visit to Birmingham Saturday. The new Alabama conch's first assignment in the south back in 1923 was to change a squad drilled in the Warner system to the Notre Dame style of play.

Thomas plans to teach the Crimsons the Notre Dame system very slowly, interlocking as much of the Wade type of play into his own as possible. There is a decided similarity in the offense of the two systems. Particularly is this four of the punt formation Thomas teaches and the one Wade used. And it will not be hard for the Crimsons to employ the Notre Dame shift in taking the formation Wade used to decoy the enemy with his single wing back play.

You will see the Crimsons using

You will see the Crimsons using both their punt and single back formations after shifting this fall. The tricks that will come hard to the Alama players will be the way the Notre Dame system calls for the guards and ends to play. Wade sent a back and end after a tackle. Thomas will teach Rockne's method of letting the end maneuver the tackle out of position, so it is possible for him of position, so it is possible for him to handle the tackle alone.

The Rockne system calls for fast, shifty guards—they are the key men in the timing of all plays.

Frank Thomas has one big advantage in his favor. He knows practi-cally what to expect from the players, who will return from Alabama's great team. He watched every practice out in California and will start spring practice Monday, February 2, with a definite idea of what he can expect from each player and how each play-er should be handled after talking to Thomas is sold on the two-team idea and will work hard this spring in order to develop two full teams. "We will have one good team, and I hope to be able to get enough good players from the freshman squad for a shock troop brigade," said Frank in looking over a list of players. looking over a list of players.

INSTALLMENT LVII.

He unostentatiously contrived to place his own chair directly in front of the door, and motioned Aline and Barbara to station themselves before the window. Schnitzler with unquestioning docility sat down in the chair nearest him and spread his heavy gnarled hands palm downward on his upthrust knobby knees. Peter's manoeuvring of positions had not been lost upon Lynn. His mouth twisted in a sardonic grin.

"My game's up. I've had 10 years of hell, so I'm used to it. It'll be like going back home—unless they give me the quick way out. That'd be better," he said. "I won't try to beat it."

Peter twined his long legs around the rungs of his chair and tilted its back against the door.

"What did you come here for, anyway?" he asked conversationally. "You don't have to tell me unless you choose. This isn't any third degree.
But I'd like to know."

"It won't do you any good if I tell you," Lynn said sullenly. "But if tell you," Lynn said sullenly. "But if the contained the rungs of his chair and tilted its back against the door.

"It is a charm to work evil," Schnitzler said simply. "But I—I wish no evil. I did not even wish to

Aline and Barbara exclaimed both

"Not why—?"
Aline and Barbara exclaimed both at once.
"The deuce you have!" The front legs of Peter's chair clattered to the floor. "What the devil did you want with it?"
"The devil—you have it right," the old man announced with gloomy conduction. "I must bring it back where I found it. It has power—yes. Too much power. I do not like it. It is dangerous." Schnitzler spoke with a curious literalness under his manifest alarm, as if he were stating an unpleasant and inescapable fact.
"So it was all for nothing. It wasn't even here! I've put my neck into the noose hunting for something that was somewhere else all the time. It would be like that!" Lynn said with a submission that held an ironic admiration for the triumphant strategy of fate. "Gosh, life's funny!"
"I have already told you," the old man said stolidly. "That Mortison he hexed my fields. That was not right. But I could fix him. The pow-wow doctor told my father that, long ago. If I get something of his, the thing that is closest to him, I can make a spell against him, like he has already made it against me. I watch my chance, but I can get bold of authing. His magic was powerful—my fields were no good at all, not worth cutting. So mine must be still more powerful. I watch—and watch.
"Then one day I stand under the window and I see him with this ring. His magic was powerful—my fields were no good at all, not worth cutting. So mine must be still more powerful. I watch—and watch.

I smash the box and get the ring. Then I hear the sound of some one running fast down the path to the door, and I climb out the window just in time. The ring is Mortison's charm, all right! No soon-

The sick hopelessness of Lynn's eyes lightened for a moment. He looked at Aline with a respect tinged with admiration. When she had pointed that gun at him she had meant business, and no mistake!

"You've said it, Miss," he acknowledged.

"That ring—it is the maker of all the trouble!" Schnitzler burst out with such vehemence that all eyes turned to him. He twisted himself sidewise in his chair and thrust his big bony hand into the deep pocket of his overalls. "Der ring—I have him—he is here!" As if the touch of it burned his fingers, he threw it on the desk, following it with distrustful eyes until it had rolled to rest.

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

They stopped once for food and water, which re vived the girl. "Why have you saved me?" she asked. "You are a woman," answered Tarzan. "I could not leave you to perish, no matter what you have done." And Flora Hawkes could only sob out have done. And Flora Hawkes could only son out a plea for forgiveness for the wrong she had done him. It grew quite dark when, as they moved along the silent trail, the ape-man caught the re-flection of firelight. "I think we shall soon find our man," he whispered; "make no noise!"

Friends, five years from this day barely twenty of you will be alive. Only the most intelligent will survive. If your pressure is 150 your chance of dying is 34% above the average. If it is 160 and over, your chance of dying is 400% above the average, the death rate being greater than that of cancer and tuberculosis combined. See Dr. Granger's new book, page 203 to 216.

You can get no insurance above 150. Your risk is so great that no company will take you. These are insurance facts and are true. See Fisher's Mortality Tables.

T HERE are some products that MAY be good—some that are SOME-TIMES good - and some that are ALWAYS good.

There is real satisfaction in KNOW-ING that what you buy will be all you expected.

Some of Campbell's customers order one grade of coal-others prefer a different grade. We supply their demands.

But each gets his full dollar's worth. Campbell's stands back of that.
